

Discovering Ways to Motivate Employees

As supervisors and managers, we understand the importance of maintaining a motivated staff. However, knowing what motivates our employees can be a challenging feat because our employees possess unique personalities.

This two-hour course is designed to aid supervisors in examining the various methods by which employees are motivated. Among other topics, the course will examine the difference between reward and recognition and how to identify which approach(es) best motivates employees.

The sessions scheduled for 2010 are:

Session #1: Monday, May 24 from 2 pm – 4 pm

Session #2: Thursday, October 14 from 9 am – 11 am

Organization Development & Training Division

Our mission is to constantly build organizational effectiveness by providing the material and conceptual resources needed to improve performance and enhance the quality of work life. We are committed to the continuous growth and development of our people.